Suit by an Administrator.

Henry K. Willard, as administrator of the estate of Frederick L. Christmas, has entered suit against Mary L. C. Wood, executrix of Win. W. Wood, through his attorney, Col. Enoch Totten, to recover $10,000 balance due on a mortgage on Brooklyn property, which was bought by Wood in 1869 subject to a mortgage which he agreed to pay as part of the purchase money but failed to do so. The property was sold to pay the mortgage and this suit is for the balance remaining due after the application of the purchase money to the payment of the mortgage.

Fighting the Assessments on Stock.
Col. Emoch Totton as solicitor for the Wash ington and Georgetown Railroad company by a bill in equity filed yesterday against the district comm isstoners, prays that the latter be enjoined from endeavoring to collect assessments upon the capital stock and upon the tracks as real estate for the years 1874-56-78-9-70 and '71, on the ground that such assessments are illegal and were not made until sometime in the year 1882. The amount of the tax and interest is about $16,000.

Was it a Conscious ?—A True Relation.

Sitting in his office recently, busily engaged in writing, a gentleman became conscious of the approach of some one. Without raising his head, he instinctively concluded it was not one of his elerks or salesmen, because of something unusual in the tread of the visitor. Still pursuing his work, it suddenly flashed through his mind that it was Mr. 5— of A—. Va. the residence as well as the name being suggested. There was no reason that he could conceive of why he should surmise it was Mr. 5—. He was not expecting a visit from Mn. 5—. nor was mr. 8— in the habit of calling more than once of twice a year. As he rose more than once or twice a year. As he rose s—, nor was Mr. S—in the habit of calling more than once or twice a year. As he rose to receive his visitor, he saw it was not Mr. S—, but a boy about 18 years of age. To the best of his recollection, he had never seen the bey before. Mr. S— is about 40 years old. This youth brought a sealed letter, which, on being opened, proved to be an order for an overcoal from Mr. S— of A— Va. the soffres as well as the name pring spreed the provided in full, on Heaning, the Country, the covering most in the country.

Memorial Lutheran Church. The Memorial church presented a happy sight Monday night on the occasion of the regular annual Christmas entertainment of the regular annual Christmas eutertainment of the evening Sunday school, Dr. Butler superintendent. The school is a large one, numbering upward of 300 children, and, as a consequence, there were a large number of children with their parents present. D orations of evergreens and huge piles of niceaes served to add interest and animation to the children, and a pleasant evening was experienced. The programme, executed invariably by the little children, was an excellent one, and showed no little juvenile talent secreted in the infant department of the school. When this was concluded the distribution of the sweetmeats took place, and in the glad Christmas season the

The Alleged Borns Count. Julius Haas, the bogus German count, was charged in the police court yesterday with ob-taining $25 from Hon. Simon Wolf under false pretenses. The testimony showed that the defendant gave Mr. Wolf a bogus draft on Berlin for 5,000 marks, borrowing $25. It was also proven that Hass owed a board bill of $44 at the National hotel, and that he had swindled Justice Walter out of $25. The defendant testified that he had considerable property in Germany, and could prove his innocence. The case was continued.
